Management's Discussion of Fund Performance

The following discussion compares the performance of the Fund to the Russell 1000 Growth Index to show how the Fund's performance compares to the returns of similar investments for the reporting period. See the Average Annual Total Returns table below for the returns of the Fund and related indexes, including the Russell 3000 Index, which represents approximately 98% of investable U.S. equities by market capitalization. The Fund seeks to provide long-term capital appreciation by investing primarily in common stocks of large-sized U.S. companies.

Top Contributors to Performance

- An underweight position in companies with negative analyst conviction and flat to worsening earnings to price ratio contributed positively to Fund relative performance.
- By sector, stock selection in Consumer Discretionary and Industrials aided performance.
- Top individual Fund holdings that contributed positively to performance included overweight positions in Spotify Technology SA and Vistra Corp. and an underweight position in Tesla, Inc.

Top Detractors from Performance

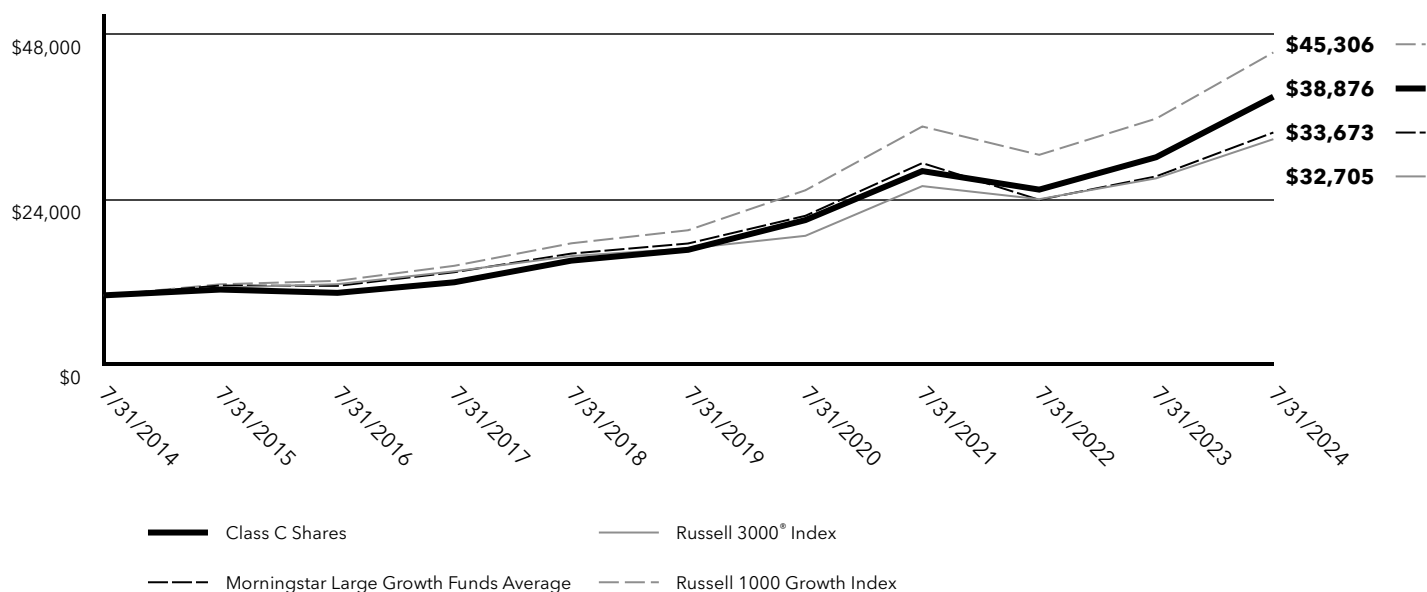

- Poor stock selection among companies with a strong 1-year return, very high analyst conviction, and low structural earnings detracted from Fund relative performance.
- By sector, stock selection in Consumer Staples and Financials detracted from performance.
- Top individual Fund holdings that detracted from performance were an underweight position in NVIDIA Corporation and overweight positions in PepsiCo, Inc. and Zscaler, Inc.

Fund Performance

Keep in mind that the Fund's past performance is not a good predictor of how the Fund will perform in the future. The graph and table do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or redemption of fund shares.
