Management's Discussion of Fund Performance

The following discussion compares the performance of the Fund to a 60%/40% custom blend of the Bloomberg US Aggregate Bond Index and the Russell 1000 Value Index (the "Blended Index") to show how the Fund's performance compares to the returns of similar investments for the reporting period. See the Average Annual Total Returns table below for the returns of the Fund and related indexes, including the S&P 500 Index (the "S&P 500") which tracks the stock performance of 500 of the largest companies listed on stock exchanges in the U.S. The Fund seeks to achieve high current income and moderate capital appreciation by investing in both equity and fixed-income securities that have high income potential.

Top Contributors to Performance

- The S&P 500 futures were the largest contributor to Fund relative performance. The Fund was long S&P 500 futures for the reporting period, over which the S&P 500 had a 25% total return.
- Equity security selection for each of the eleven sectors in the S&P 500 contributed positively to Fund relative performance. The sectors with the most positive impact were Industrials, Financials, Consumer Staples and Information Technology.
- Short interest rate futures positions (which gain when interest rates move higher) were used tactically during the reporting period and added to Fund relative performance, particularly in the fourth quarter of 2024.
- Yield curve positioning; sector allocation (overweight emerging markets, trade finance loans and high yield); security selection (investment-grade corporates and mortgage-backed securities); and duration management all contributed positively to Fund relative performance.

Top Detractors from Performance

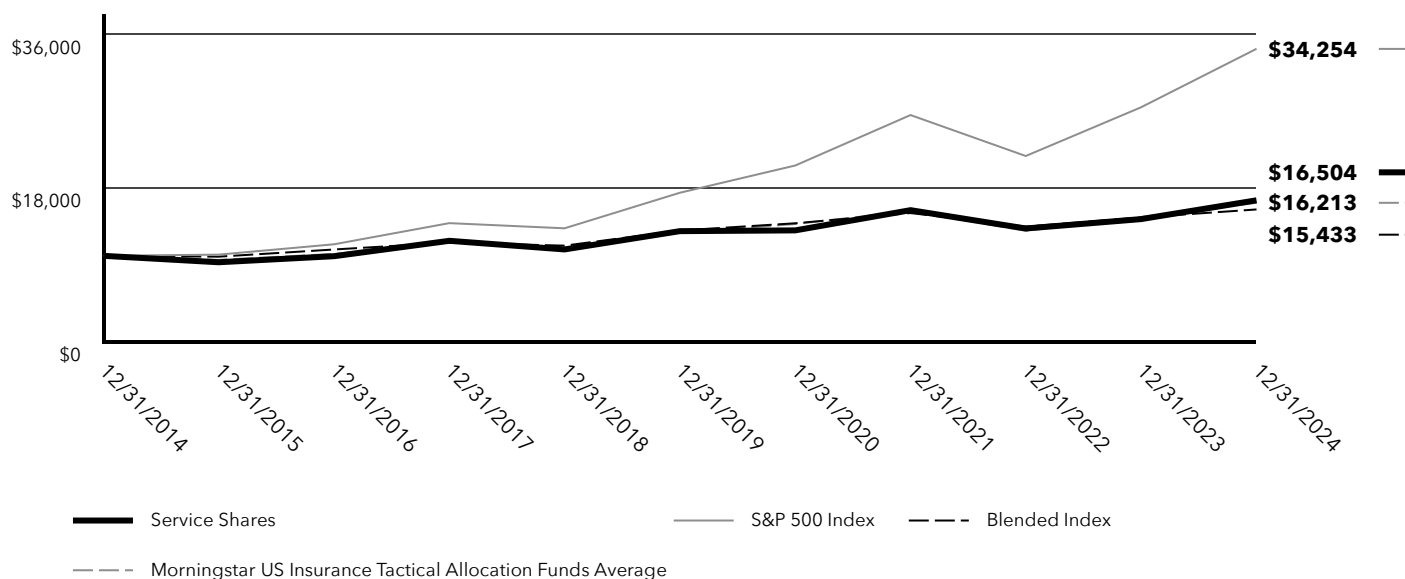

- Equity put options negatively impacted Fund relative performance. The Fund's long put option positions lost value as the equity market moved higher in the reporting period.

Fund Performance

Keep in mind that the Fund's past performance is not a good predictor of how the Fund will perform in the future. The graph and table do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or redemption of fund shares.
